OAK HILLS HIGH

THIS IS THE WORLD

SCHOOL

AROUND US

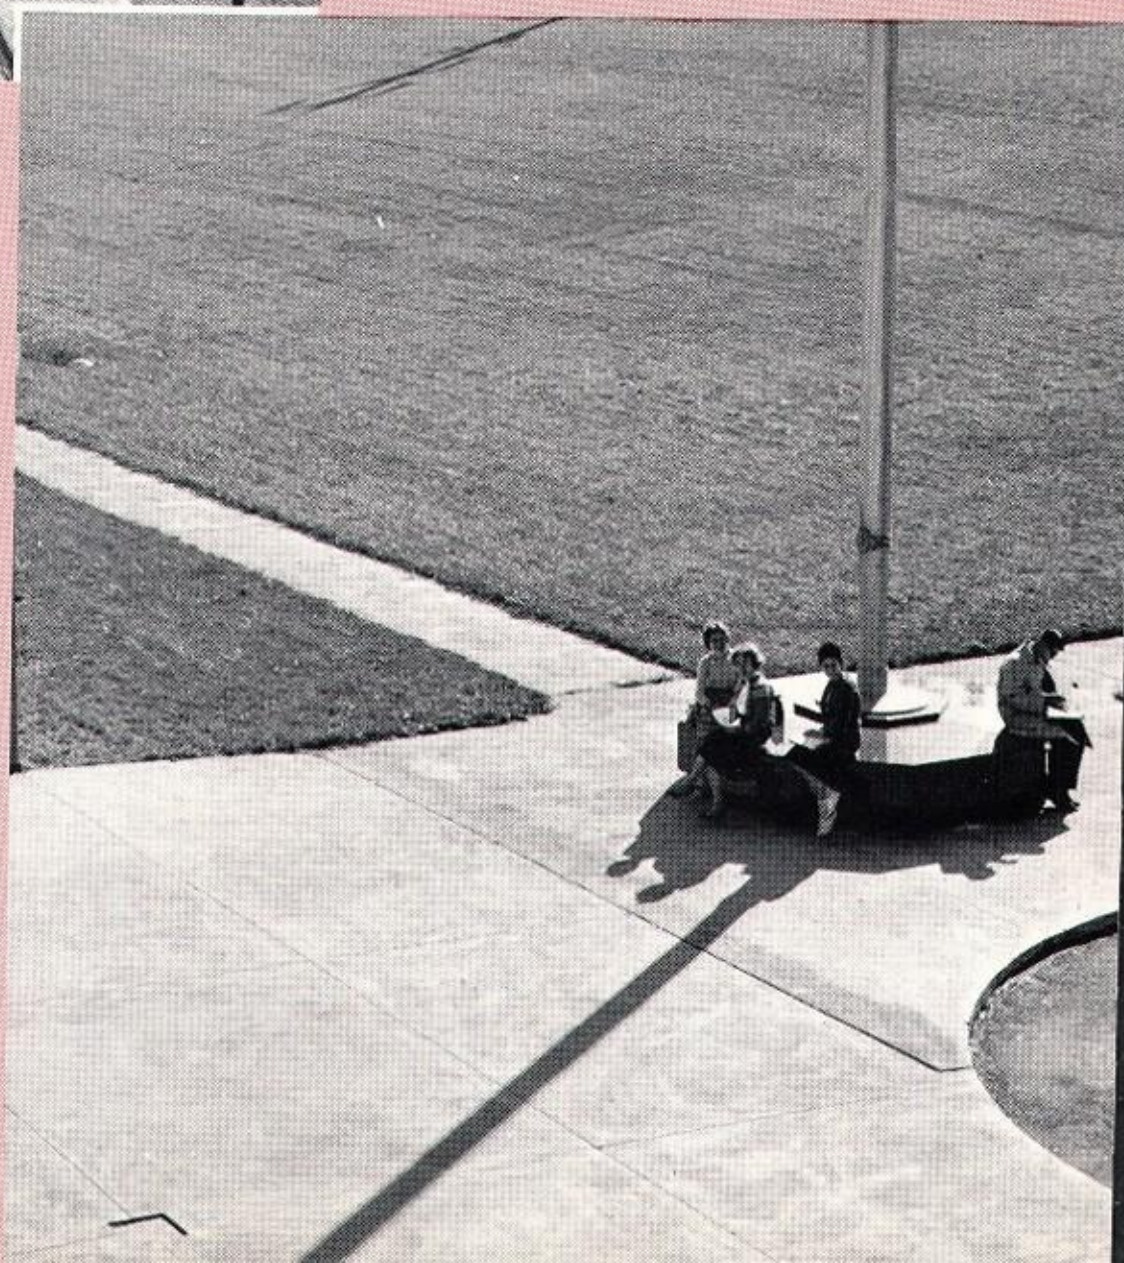

A WORLD QUIET SOLITUDE

A sturdy column, far from the center of activity, offers a quiet place for study on a warm and sunny fall or spring afternoon.

The darkness of shadows accentuated by the brilliance of the afternoon sun enhances the natural beauty of the overpass at the rear of Oak Hills.

A spot of beauty and of rest. Or a busy hive of activity. Morning and afternoon the flagpole witnesses the gathering of the clan. In groups, small or large, students and teachers meet, talk, relax.

OF CONTRAST

BUSTLING ACTIVITY

In front of Oak Hills High School each afternoon this scene of bustling activity is enacted. Cheerfully noisy students wait in throngs as buses come and go transporting them from school to their homes in the various parts of the school district.

It's much more than a parking lot. With little difficulty it becomes a practice field for the band. The wide open space affords us a pleasant view of our community, the larger world around us.

SO MUCH A PART

Freshman Bill Harkness seems a bit overawed as he views the stacks of books which will be so much a part of his life before graduation from Oak Hills.

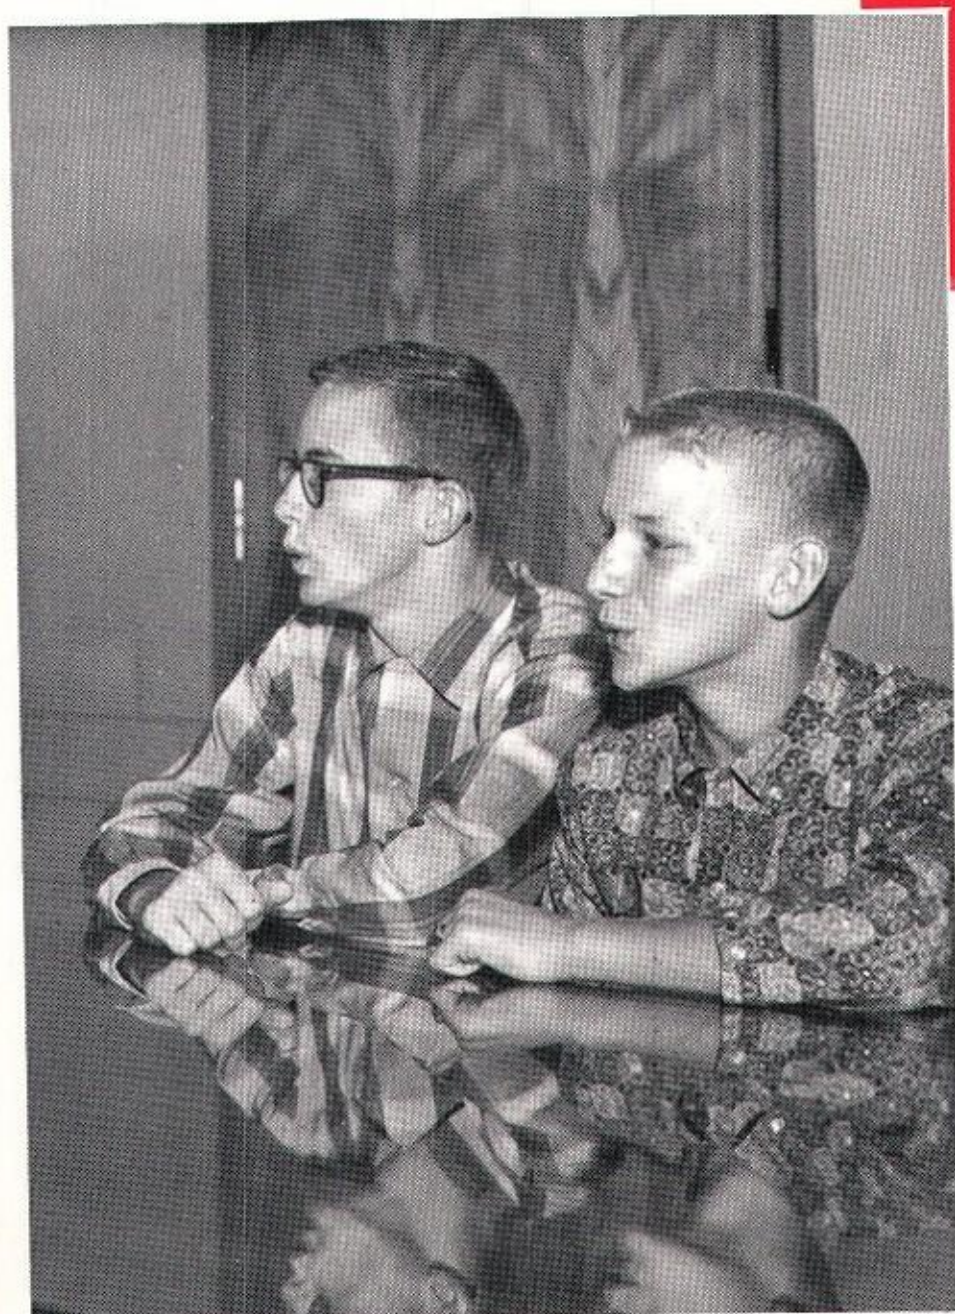

Other people, too, like these Norwood football players, are so much a part of our world.

This scene is enacted over and over again in Oak Hills' front hall, late in the afternoon when activities are over. B. Bauer,

J. Rewwer, S. Duncan, and S. Kreuger await their parents and spend the time well in study.

OF OUR WORLD

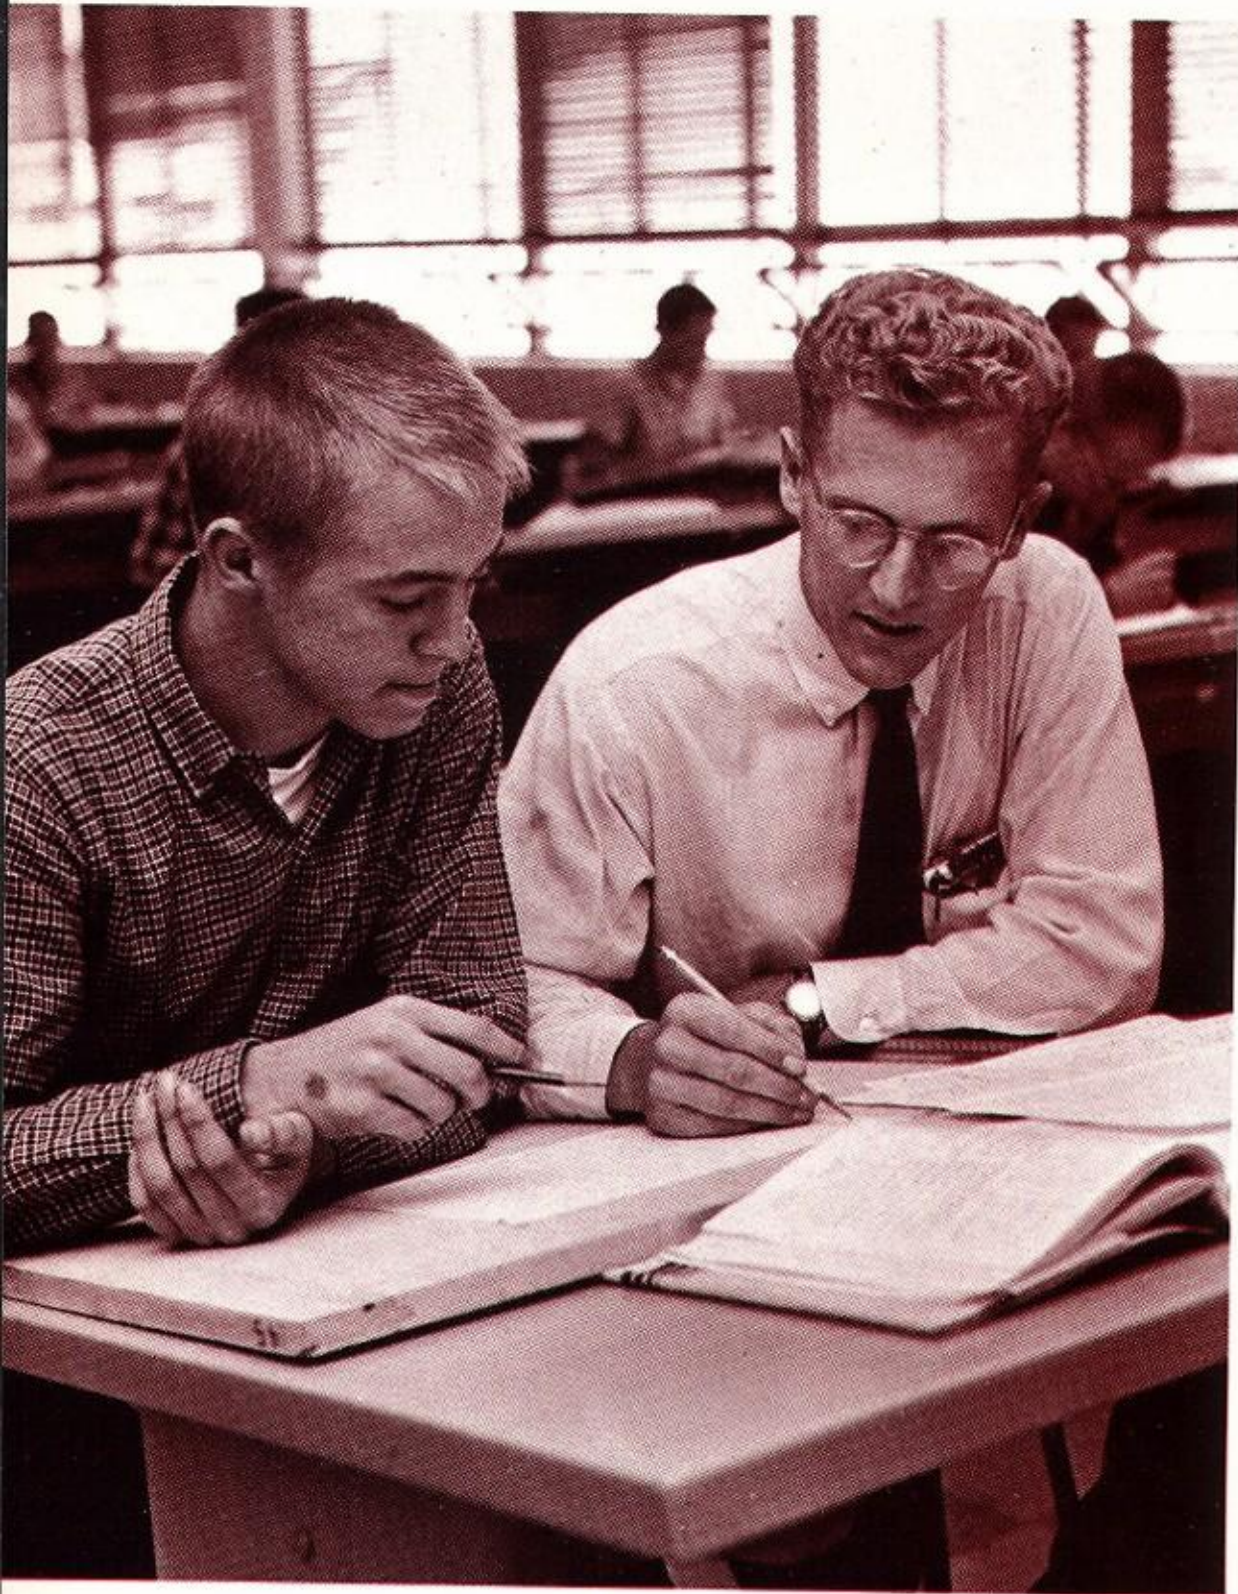

"Hither, hither from thy home,
Airy spirit, I bid thee come.
Borne on roses, fed on dew,
Charms and potions, canst thou brew."

JoAnn Thompson effectively portrays the witch in a play within the play "Little Women."

"Grün," "schön," "Mädchen." No it's not a new game. Just two German students, Carl Frondorf and Jerry Schunk, practicing their umlauts. Keep at it boys. Now try "König," "Fräulein," and "glücklich."

THE WORLD OF EDUCATION:

TEACHING AND LEARNING
STUDY AND WORK
TOWARD A COMMON GOAL — GRADUATION

A true picture of education: one teacher and one pupil in a learning situation. With infinite care and patience Mr. Harris explains and illustrates a difficult problem in Mechanical Drawing.

Observation and illustration open a new world of education in Biology.

Speech class is more than just a period of speechmaking. Mrs. Holt discusses the world of the theatre.

TEACHERS AND STUDENTS

Mr. Morgan points out certain skeletal characteristics to C. Wienecke, P. Stortz, and P. Ball.

Students in the speech class find the theatrical phase of their work especially interesting.

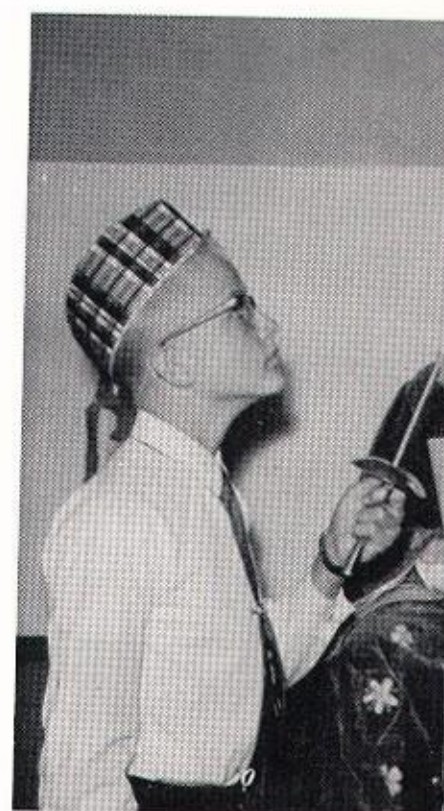

Small pieces of paper, a jar of paste, and a few students under the watchful eye of Mr. Koenig produce attractive works of art.

The ultimate goal of school and education: graduation into the world!

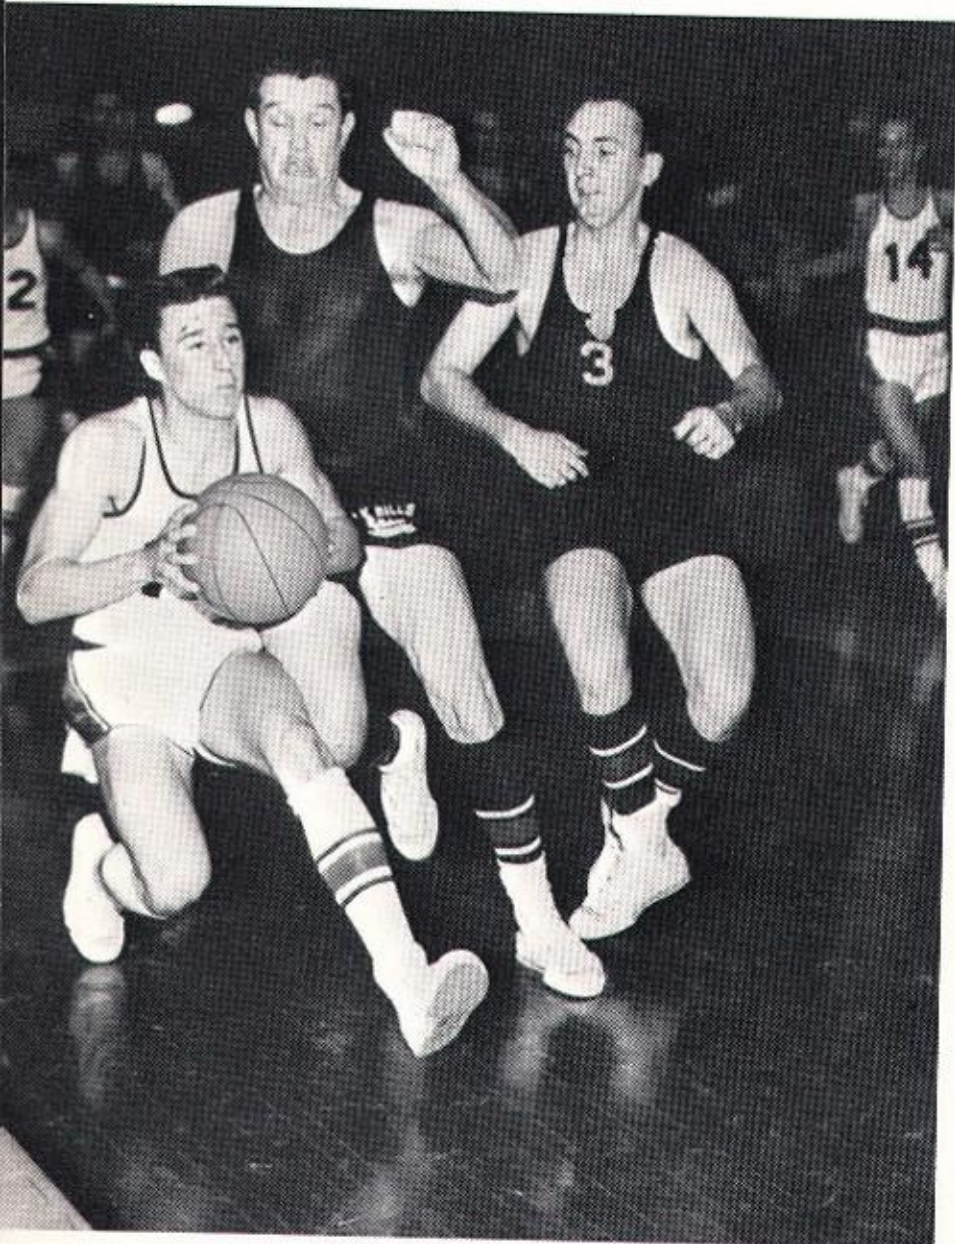

WHAT A WONDERFUL WORLD

Homeroom Tartan Day celebrations and decorations took many forms.

High-stepping performers add to the audience's enjoyment of "The Best of Oak Hills."

Fierce competition (notice the expression on Mr. Lane's face) marks the battle between the faculty and varsity basketball teams.

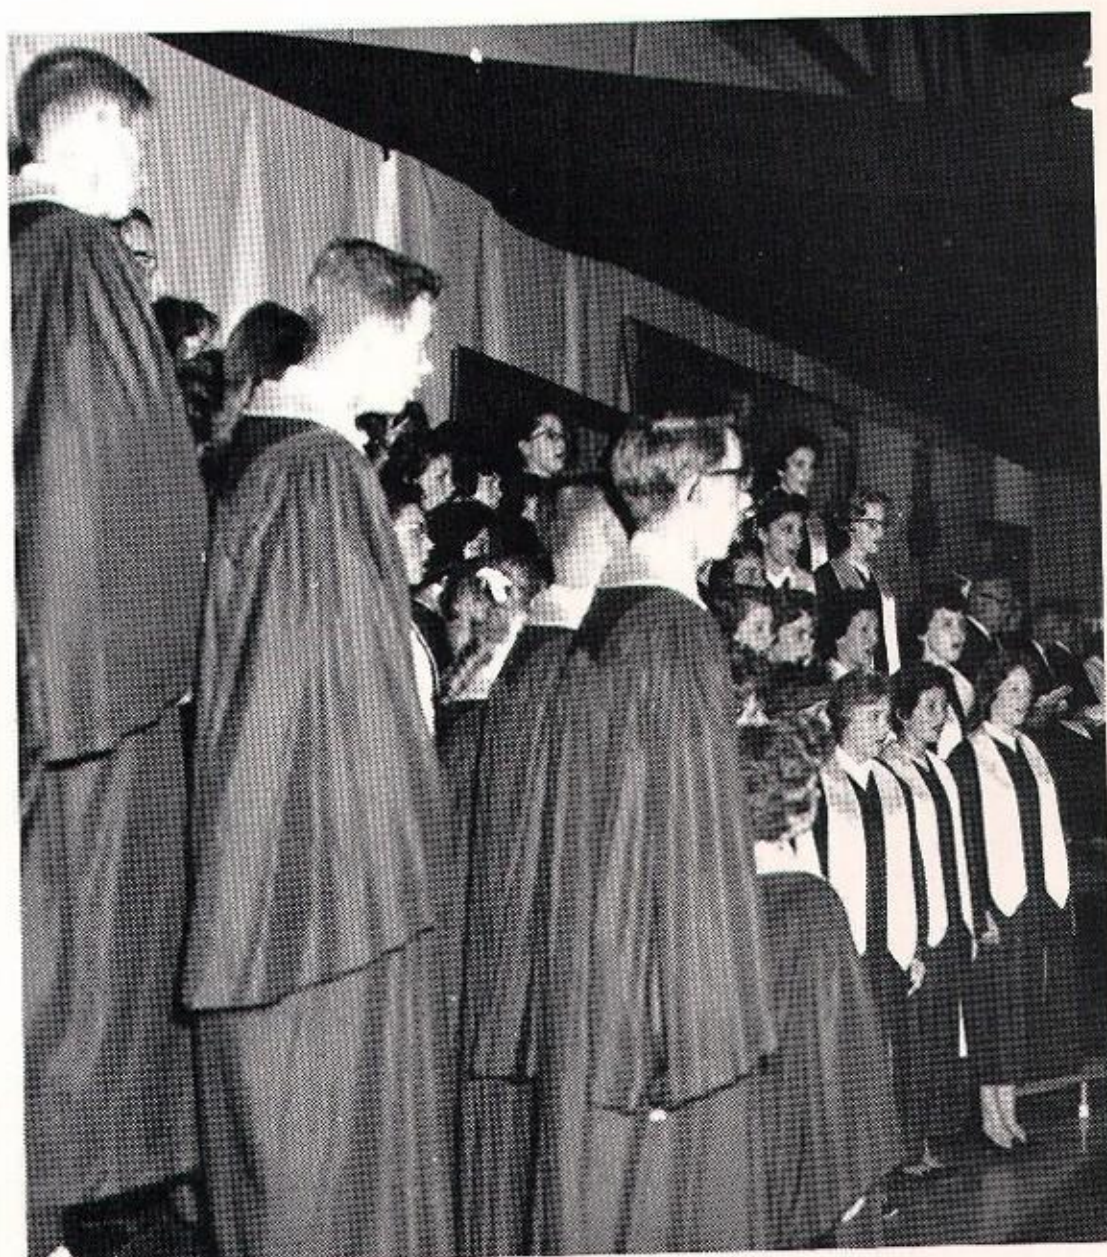

A moment of anger. Steve Womack is the startled victim. This was just one of the many amusing scenes in the Dramatic Club's performance of "Meet Me In St. Louis."

OF FUN AND ENTERTAINMENT

David Baum reads a proclamation as an honor guard stands with crossed swords.

Songs of beauty and inspiration are performed by the Oak Hills Choir. Here the choir sings at the first Oak Hills' Graduation ceremony.

Bob Goldsberry is up and over successfully, apparently to the wonderment of the interested spectators.

ADMINISTRATION

THE BUSY AND ACTIVE WORLD

The new offices of the Oak Hills Central Office are located in John Foster Dulles Elementary School on Bridgetown Road. What an active busy place this is! Here the superintendent and his staff plan and supervise the many activities of all the schools in the Oak Hills District. Here, too, the Board of Education holds its monthly meeting to determine the policy necessary to make Oak Hills a well-run and efficient district. Telephones ring, people come and go in this important nerve center of our school district.

RICHARD W. HERRON SUPERINTENDENT

MRS. HELEN ORLEMANN
SECRETARY

MRS. SARA COLEMAN
SECRETARY

OF THE OAK HILLS CENTRAL OFFICE

Two important tasks which affect everyone in the Oak Hills' school district are performed by Mr. Herron and Mr. Combs and the staff of the Central Office. These two jobs concern bus transportation for the district and the purchasing of supplies. The importance of transportation is obvious to all students, especially those who live in the farthest reaches of the district or those who must depend solely upon the buses to get to school. No less important is the task of buying books, equipment, and supplies sufficient to keep the schools of the district doing the best possible educational job.

ADMINISTRATION—

Today's world is a world of automation in which education must keep pace. Largely through the efforts of Mr. William M. Kulstad, Principal, Oak Hills High School became the first public high school in Hamilton County to use the Univac data processing system for report cards and registration.

Other recognition has been brought to the school through his published articles in such magazines as "Student Life," his work for the adoption of a school ring, the promotion of Tartan Day, and his membership in national and state professional organizations.

Mr. Kulstad, who received his Master's degree from the University of Minnesota and did advanced work both there and at the University of California, came to the Cincinnati area from a high school principalship in Rapid City, South Dakota. He has always had a particular interest in Student Council organizations, and this has continued at Oak Hills. At the present time, he serves on the State Student Council Executive Committee representing the Ohio State Principal's Association.

For the future, Mr. Kulstad looks toward the establishment of a remedial and developmental reading program at Oak Hills, and a well-rounded curriculum to meet the needs of all students. Thus, he feels, must the challenge of tomorrow's world be met in the classrooms of today.

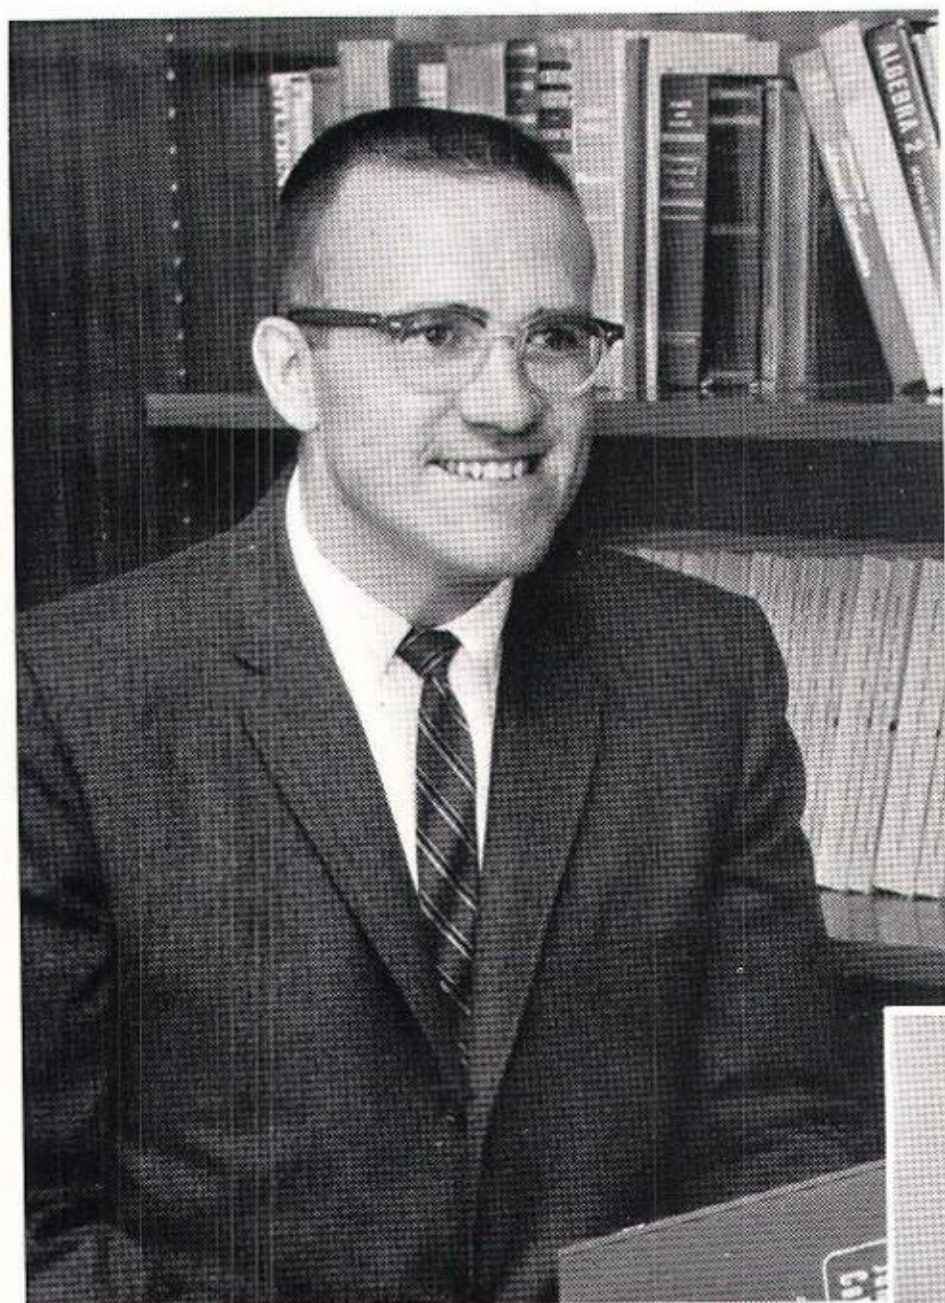

MR. WILLIAM M. KULSTAD PRINCIPAL OF OAK HILLS

Mr. Kulstad finds that paper work keeps him at his desk many hours during the school day and often far into the night. Here he performs the routine task of signing a check drawn upon the student activity fund allowing some club to make a purchase or pay a bill.

AN IMPORTANT PHASE OF OUR WORLD

Mr. Reece spends much of his time testing and counseling Oak Hills' students, especially the boys, who are trying to gain admission to college. He knows that a well-stocked reference library of college catalogs and information is a necessity.

MR. J. WALTER REECE
ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Mr. J. Walter Reece is a native Ohioan having been born in Dayton, Ohio. His elementary and high school education was obtained in Loveland, Ohio.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University where his major field of study was mathematics with minors in chemistry and physics.

The Master of Education degree with a major in administration was awarded to him by the University of Cincinnati. His master's program included several courses in guidance. At the present time he is continuing his graduate work beyond the master's in the area of public school administration.

His teaching career started at Terrace Park High School, and he served as assistant principal during his last year at Terrace Park. The next position he held was as assistant principal of Anderson High School for two years. The following year he worked as a research assistant for the Cincinnati Board of Education in the division of Research, Statistics, and Information. Then he came to Oak Hills where he is currently completing his second year as assistant principal.

DEANS OFFER

Mrs. Edward Roberts, Dean of Girls, has brought to Oak Hills High School many years of academic preparation and professional experience, including teaching on elementary, junior high, senior high, and college levels.

A native of Kentucky, Mrs. Roberts was graduated from Holmes High School, Covington. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Kentucky State College; her Master of Arts degree from Cornell University; and did advanced work at the University of Colorado, University of Kentucky, University of Cincinnati and Harvard University, where she served as a Graduate Assistant.

Immediately before coming to Oak Hills, Mrs. Roberts was Dean of Girls at Holmes High School, Covington, and taught an evening class in freshman English at the University of Kentucky Northern Center.

Her hobby is creative writing, and she is the author of three books of verse: "Bluegrass," "Bluegrass, Junior," and "Bluegrass Seasons," as well as numerous published articles. For the past eight years, she has been a daily newspaper columnist for the Cincinnati Enquirer, Kentucky Edition.

Her duties at Oak Hills include everything concerning the girls — attendance, discipline, guidance, college and vocational counseling, and job placement.

MRS. ALICE K. ROBERTS
DEAN OF GIRLS

Mrs. Roberts checks the absence list carefully to insure the accuracy of her records regarding illness, absence, and attendance of all the girls in the high school.

COUNSELING AND GUIDANCE SERVICE

The shelves of Mr. Martin's office reflect the emphasis and importance which he places upon the use of booklets and pamphlets in his guidance and counseling work with Oak Hills' boys.

Last year he also worked part-time as a guidance counselor at the Ohio College of Applied Science, a junior college in downtown Cincinnati which trains engineering technicians and is affiliated with the Ohio Mechanics Institute.

His favorite sports are basketball and swimming. He is a Red Cross Water Safety instructor and has either managed pools or taught swimming for many summers.

MR. DAWN MARTIN
DEAN OF BOYS

Mr. Dawn Martin, Dean of Boys, has a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Cincinnati, a Master of Education degree in administration from Xavier University, and has fulfilled the requirements for a Doctor of Education degree in guidance and counseling at the University of Cincinnati except for the dissertation.

He taught English at Withrow High School for seven years. In 1960-61, Mr. Martin fulfilled residence requirements at the University of Cincinnati for the Doctor of Education and had a graduate scholarship. In connection with this, he counseled freshman education students. He worked with various social agencies in Hamilton County in order to place these students for volunteer work.

A LARGE VARIETY OF SERVICES

SECRETARIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES

Mrs. Elizabeth Gysin, secretary, finds that her typewriter is almost her constant companion as she prepares reports, bulletins, and absence lists as part of her daily work in the high school office.

Mrs. Erlyne Schubert, secretary in the high school office, sorts the great quantity of mail which comes to Oak Hills each day. This is just one of the many tasks performed by Mrs. Schubert during her busy day.

Miss Reba Sheppard, school nurse, keeps quite busy tending sick students, examining those returning after absence, and checking the absence list for those newly ill. In addition to her duties here, she serves also in the elementary schools of the district.

PROVIDED

LUNCHROOM AND CUSTODIAL SERVICES

One group of lunchroom workers prepares pizza for lunch. They are: Mrs. Vera Maisch, Mrs. Katherine Maisch, Mrs. Shirley Fox, Mrs. Marian Fricker, Mrs. Betty Kissick, and Mrs. Jeanette Bovard. Meanwhile the rest of the ladies keep busy peeling potatoes. This group includes: Mrs. Emma Feth, Mrs. Clara Schaumloeffel, Mrs. Elsie Grimm, Mrs. Edna Foertsch, Mrs. Bertha Brockhoff, and Mrs. Esther Stewart.

Members of the custodial staff: Mr. Leroy Gresham, Mrs. Christine Conner, Mr. Nelson Conner, Mr. Arthur Wengert, and Mr. William Schunk always find enough work of various kinds to keep them busy.

IT'S A WORLD OF TEACHERS

TEACHING OFFERS A REWARDING CAREER

The teaching profession is one of the fastest growing professions in the country. The great increase in population and the tremendous boom in school construction have greatly accelerated the need for teachers on all levels of education and in all subject matter fields. Teaching as a career has become more appealing in recent years as many young people realize the advantages and opportunities which are offered in this challenging and rewarding job.

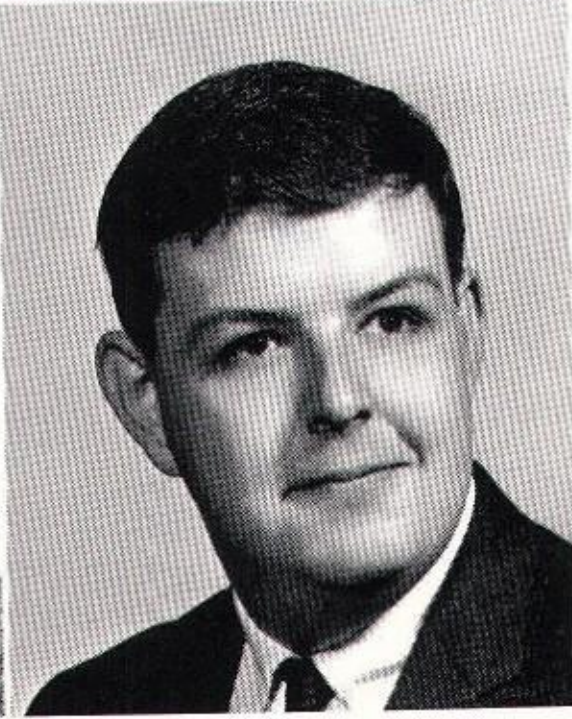

Three stages of the teaching profession meet here: Mrs. Colgan, business teacher; Karen Faust, member of Future Teachers of America; and Miss Melillo student teacher in social studies.

TEACHING MEANS INSTRUCTION

TEACHERS GIVE PERSONAL ATTENTION TO STUDENTS

The primary task of the teacher is instruction, that is, to impart to each student the particular skill or information required by his class. This is done primarily on a class-wide basis, but time and opportunity are given in each class for personal supervision and attention by the teacher. Some students need more individual instruction than others just as some classes lend themselves more readily to this type of teaching. Wherever and whenever possible, the teacher gladly gives this individual attention.

John Patterson indignantly displays the life-like dummy placed on his trolley track as a prank. The two girls, Margie Bauer and Shirley Krueger know more than they admit, but Barry Miller and Steve Womack seem quite concerned.

"MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS"

PRESENTED
SPRING, 1961

Jim Heeb and Randy Grobe are dignity personified as they discuss an important business matter. But mischievous Shirley Krueger plans something not quite so dignified.

"Ouch!" Jim Heeb has lost his dignity as teeth sink into his leg. The parents, Randy Grobe and Sharyn Hockley look on in horror.

"The fireworks!" The fair has begun and friends and family rush to the window in order not to miss the exciting sight.

FALL PLAY IS "LITTLE WOMEN"

"Here, let me show you!" Jo (L. Vollmer) tries to show Amy (S. Krueger) the proper way to fall.

A new member is introduced into the Pickwick Club. Jo overrules the objections of her sisters and invites Laurie (D. Seipel) to join their exclusive group even though Meg (J. Thompson) obviously still protests.

The Reverend Mr. March (R. Blue) presides at Meg's wedding. Her proud mother (S. Hockley) beams while Amy and Laurie heartily approve.

Sympathetic sisters examine Amy's hand. Jo is ready for revenge as Meg and Beth (B. Fritsch) give dismayed agreement.

THESPIANS —

Thespian officers proudly display trophies earned for outstanding work in speech and drama. Officers are: J. Currie, Vice-President; J. A. Thompson, Treasurer; J. Heeb, Clerk; K. Niswonger, President; L. Vollmer, Secretary.

OAK HILLS
PRESENTS
"THE ROARING TWENTIES"

Juanita Hollis in typical 20's costume presents "The Varsity Girl," a tap dance in the 20's style.

Looking like sacks and with a roaring twenties backdrop behind them, dancers present a number called "Goofus." Wide-eyed and smiling, the sacks added charm and talent to the general program.

Presenting the Oakettes! Pat Breland, Shirley Krueger, Ginger Yarnell, Jean Rewwer, and Sandy Fleischman in "The George White Scandals."

ART SERVICE CLUB

Ralph Rigdon, Ralph White, Jim Dick, and Joy Seidler prepare to fire the beautiful figures which Service Club members presented to the school.

Christmas is in the air and the Christmas tree project is in full swing. Tom Fox, Glenn Woods,

Christmas trees, lamps, statuettes, all are projects undertaken to earn money for the club. Workers here are Bob Goldsberry, Marcia Rothe, Hope Ahrens, Cheryl Mueller, Julia Munger, and Mr. Koenig.

BEAUTIFIES THE SCHOOL

Mary Sayne, and Ron Beninghaus show the different steps in preparing the trees.

Eerie but beautiful. The Halloween window offered a sensible suggestion for celebrating this strange, exciting holiday.

The true feeling of Christmas was depicted in the beautiful stained glass window created by art students for the front hall.

LITERARY CLUB

MEMBERS ASSIST IN LIBRARY

Literary Club officers, Nancy Dalessandro (secretary), Gwen Hamlin (historian), and Judy Bender (president), Assist Adviser, Mrs. Thompson, in acquisitioning new books for the Oak Hills' library.

The production and sale of feather Christmas trees was a club money-making project. Phyllis Dissinger, Karen Begley, Anne Winters, Lynn Swearingen, and Nancy Dalessandro add finishing touches and display a few samples of their work.

Literary Club members take time out to peruse the library's large selection of periodicals. Members are Rise Carrol, Ella Sipple, Donna Price, Nancy Peet, Annie Arrington, Joyce Weiskittel, Carol Metzger, Glenna Musekamp, and Mary Mayer.

TO JOURNALISM

Mr. Wagner (adviser) and Star Mills (editor) scrutinize each edition of the "Tartan" for possible errors and ways of improvement. They seem to have found an interesting or unusual item here.

The "Tartan's" business department is not large but has played an important part in helping produce a paper. This has included ad selling, one of the ways a paper stays solvent. Members are: Maureen Rutenschroer, Judy Holthaus, and Carol Foertsch.

Editors are important people. Here is the "Tartan" editorial Staff: Pam Pfaff, Star Mills, Dana Ostholthoff, Jack Chirch, and Kris Kennedy.

SCHOOL NEWS IN BRIEF OR WITH COMPLETE COVERAGE

Sports news is a big item in a high school newspaper. This staff must bring enthusiasm plus a seriousness of purpose to its work. These members of the "Tartan" staff, G. Warrick, R. Mills, P. Pfaff, R. Myers, D. Peters, and R. Blue exhibit these characteristics.

Lin Swearingen, Barbara Love, and Fred Roessler represent three important special services needed by a newspaper: the artist, the typist, the photographer.

The backbone of any paper is its reporters. In the picture below are the people who do this important work for the "Tartan." FRONT ROW: G. Carleton, K. Niswonger,

R. Carrol, M. Parker, S. Chaney. SECOND ROW: P. Kreft, J. Schunk, L. Fischbach, J. Hopkins, S. Diltz, S. Thiemann, S. Diltz, J. Kleine, J. Schultheis, D. Nostheide.

"CALEDONIAN" STAFF WORKS

The "Caledonian" editorial staff finds work in quantity and variety. Staff members are: Mary Mayer (sophomore editor), Sharon Duncan (editor), Jeanne McCreary (assistant editor), Ed. Sauer (senior editor), and Cheryl Mitchell (junior editor).

Sharon Duncan explains "Caledonian" lay-out to staff members, Alan Sutton and Cheryl Bott.

It's fun to help "Bud." But it can also be heavy work as Ed.

IN A HECTIC WORLD

Jeanne McCreary finds a mistake in Monte Graf's typing and supervises while he corrects it.

Mr. Morris, "Caledonian" business advisor, and Penny Pollack, ad salesman, rejoice in the receipt of new revenues.

The Fine Arts Club is an innovation, not only to Oak Hills, but to most high schools. It is an organization dedicated to the enjoyment and pursuit of the cultural aspects of our society as represented by the Still Life picture on the right. Members have attended performances of plays, the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and programs presented by the Artist Series. They hope to gain a greater knowledge of and appreciation for the arts.

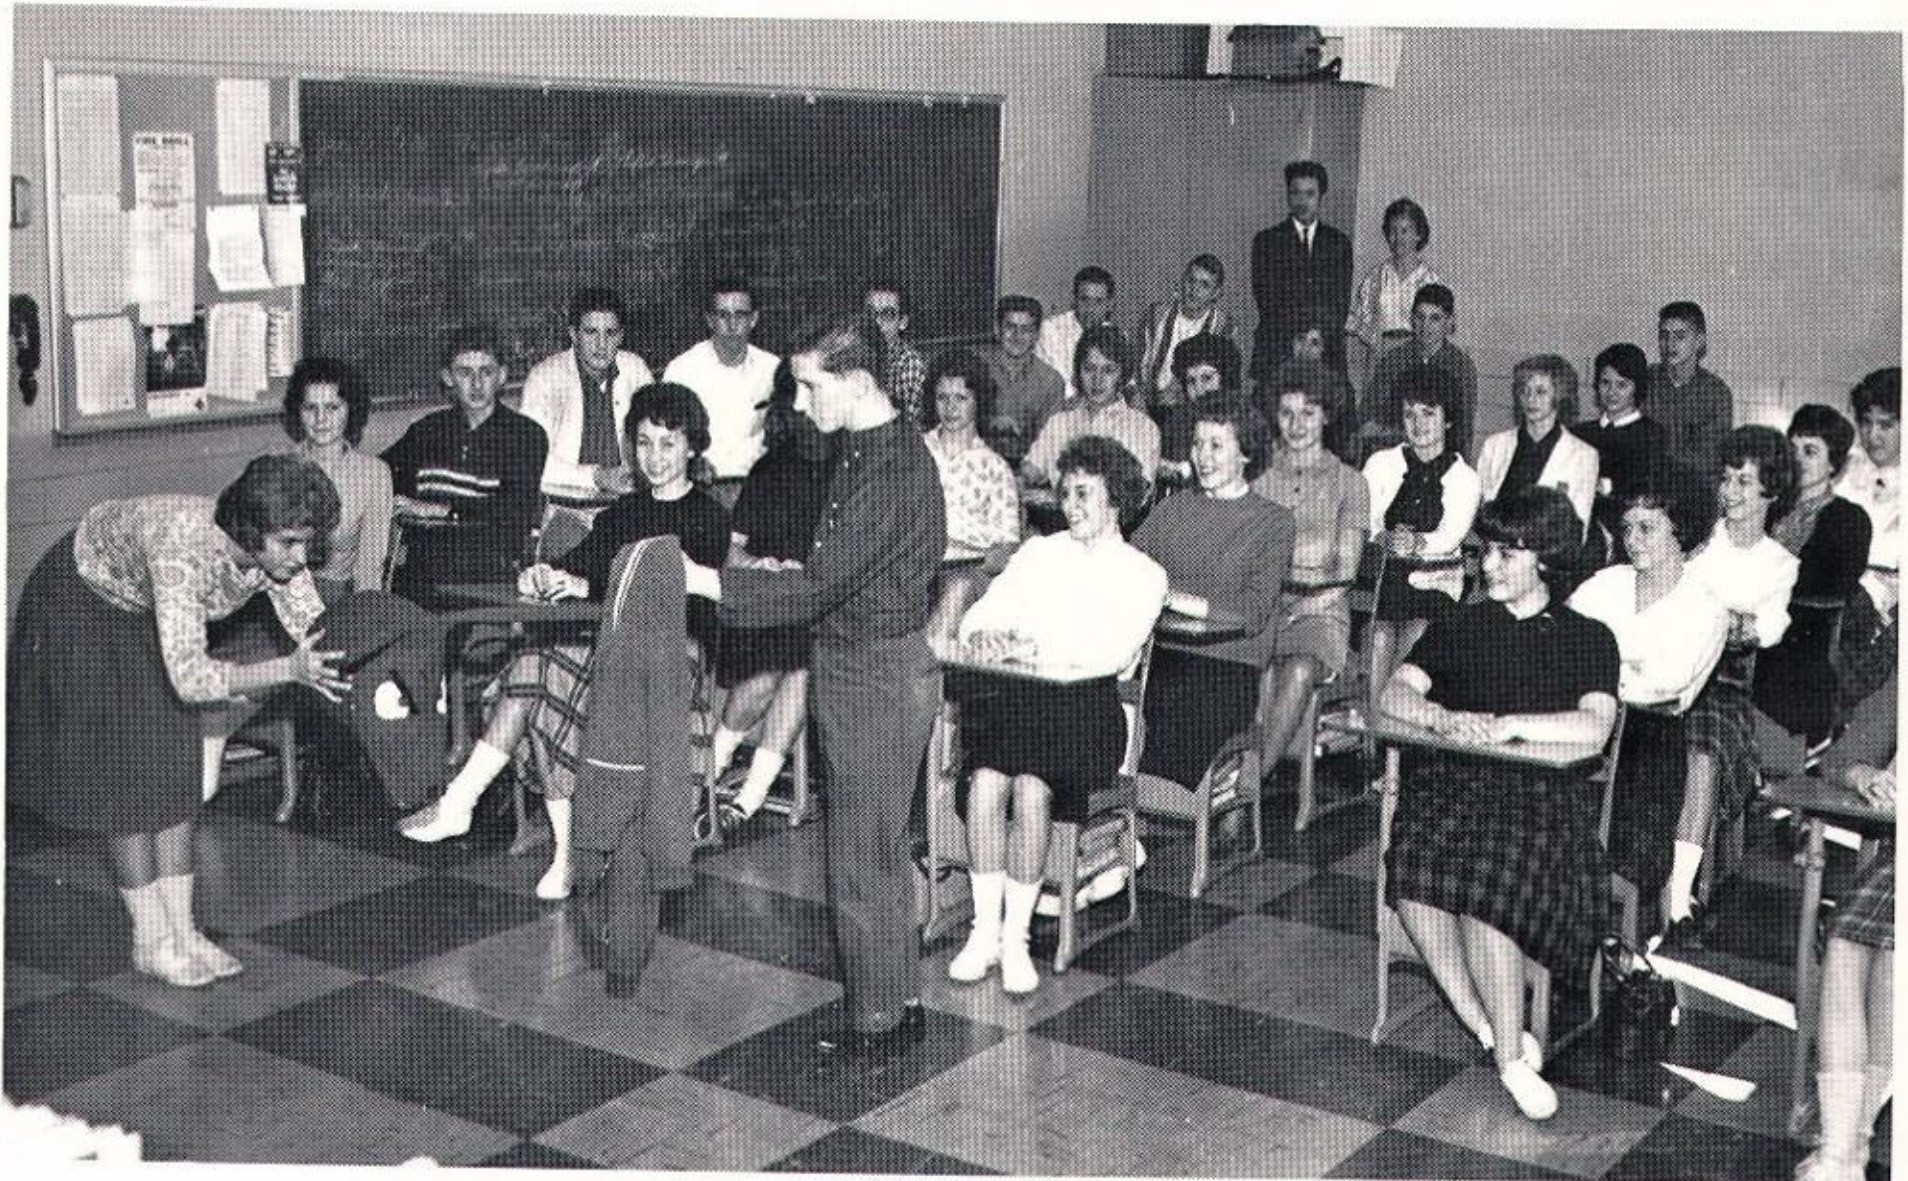

Art in painting and sculpture, music, and the dance are represented here as part of the Fine Arts Club's program.

Your Own Princess Phone

What teenager wouldn't get excited over having her very own Princess phone. Think what a joy to use a phone that's scarcely bigger than your hand — that feels light as a feather — with a dial that glows softly, lights up brightly whenever you pick up the receiver.

You'll enjoy calls more in your own room on your own Princess phone. And, the monthly charge is so low that you may be able to pay for a Princess extension yourself. For more information, call our business office.
